

"The Relics of Chateau-Thierry"

After that memorable battle, visitors went to the building back of the lines which served as a hospital. It held the American wounded who had survived that pitiless thirteen hours of beating back the Hun at Chateau-Thierry.

With the same unconquerable boyishness that is laughing its way into the hearts of all civilized Europe, these heroic young soldiers had tacked upon the door of their hospital this sign:

Relics of Chateau-Thierry
Admission Free English Spoken

Fighting until they are shot down, protesting as they are carried off the field, laughing while they suffer and giving with their last breath, these are the boys we are buying Liberty Bonds to help.

It seems unfitting that we should remind ourselves that we are only lending, that we are benefiting ourselves with every Bond we buy. The very least that we can do is to lend to the utmost—"Lend the way they fight"—never stopping to count the cost.

Bonds of the Fourth Liberty Loan are being sold to help bring to a triumphant finish this crusade against the blackest evil in the world. Every Bond you can buy will help to the full value of every dollar it represents and to the full value of every ounce of patriotism you can put back of it.

Preserve the splendid Relics of Chateau-Thierry. They're too precious to be lost to the world through German frightfulness.

RED CROSS

Mrs. Geo. Denegre, chairman of the Refugee Clothing Committee of the Gulf Division of the American Red Cross, was a guest of Pascagoula chapter on Friday afternoon. It surely afforded the members of the Red Cross a great deal of pleasure to have Mrs. Denegre with them. Her address on the Belgian Relief was very interesting, and her description of the poor starving Belgian women and children made all present feel that they could not do too much to relieve their sufferings.

She suggested having a tag day for milk for the Belgian children and thought this would be good work for the junior auxiliary.

Mrs. Denegre left with the chapter a sample of a knitted shawl, worn by the Belgian women, of which they are in great need. This shawl can be made of various colored wools and afterwards dyed. These can be made from any knitted article that could be unravelled.

Mrs. Sweatman, chairman of knitting, has this shawl and would be glad to give any information regarding this work.

The Red Cross committee in charge of the collection of clothing for the Belgian Relief want to thank their friends and the people of Pascagoula for their liberal contributions to the cause. They are pleased to state that six large packing cases full of warm clothing have been shipped from Pascagoula.

An educational film, "The Ruins of Rheims," for the American Red Cross, Tuesday, Oct. 8th. Mr. Treloar has kindly consented to put it in with his regular program at his theatres on that date and pay the $5.00 that it cost the Red Cross to obtain it.

The Pascagoula chapter of the Red Cross has been called upon to furnish 120 napkins, 14x14, which must be new or substantially new. These napkins are for the Red Cross hospital in France and other countries and all contributions must be clean and in usable condition. It is suggested for the information of friends of the Red Cross that no chapter is allowed to utilize any of the funds for this call and the campaign is to be conducted on a gift plan and must come voluntarily from the people.

Opening of Chapter House.

On Saturday, Oct. 5, the ladies of Pascagoula will celebrate the completion of their new chapter house with a silver tea. They extend a cordial invitation to their friends and the public generally to attend. It is hoped that everyone interested will call and see what has been done by the local chapter.

Does Your Life Work Mean Anything to You?

You farmers who have worked hard—and no one works harder—to get together your property, what does it mean to you?

Your property—your farm and buildings, your crops, your stock, your farm implements and, too, your home—all of these represent years and years of work that you have done.

Everything that you enjoy as the result of your work comes to you and stays with you because the heroic soldiers and sailors of Uncle Sam are standing between you and the bloodthirsty, murderous Hun.

To keep the Hun away from you, Uncle Sam does not ask you to GIVE even a single penny. He simply asks you to LEND him your money at good interest and he guarantees on his word of honor—a word that has never been broken—to pay back every penny you lend.

What is your answer?

Have you bought all the LIBERTY BONDS you possibly can?

"Force, to the Utmost"

That plunging squadron of German Cavalry, expecting to carry all before it in one mad rush, learned to the full, from a little body of American troops, the meaning of the President's words.

Force, greater even than the military rulers of Germany can imagine—the overwhelming, irresistible force of a great, free Nation aroused to fight for its Liberty and the Liberty of the World.

"Force to the Utmost"

Men by the Million! Shot, shell, guns, airplanes, tanks, ships—anything and everything required to drive home the meaning of the President's words to make plain, to the authors of the war, the fact that with such force, of men and of spirit, we must inevitably win.

Are YOU adding every ounce you can to the force behind our fighting men—the force we must exert to win the war?

WANTS TO FLY.

Mayers Dantler, son of our esteemed sawmill and shipyard owner, Mr. J. Lewis Dantler of Moss Point, although under draft age, is endeavoring to join the aviation corps and become one of Uncle Sam's flying men. The ambition of Master Mayers recalls an impromptu poem of Capt. Paul W. Ward, a young Easterner, who gave up the ministry to explore the skies.

"We lift our eyes unto the clouds from whence cometh our help.

We cry aloud unto all nations, behold our God!
Let Democracy rule throughout the earth!
May the common needs of common humanity be supreme, and posterity be made secure!
To this end do we fight, for effort cometh before victory. Amen.

Mayor was authorized to purchase sewer pipe for culverts.
